Behind the Scene at Breakfast Event!

Redditch based Oakland International, a major player in the supply-chain service to the Retail and Foodservice industry, will be opening it's doors to visitors on Thursday 30th November as part of the Chamber of Commerce Hereford & Worcester's Business Breakfast Programme.

Guests will take a conducted tour of Oakland's extensive chilled storage operation after enjoying a continental breakfast and detailed presentation on how to employ workers from within the European Union. Oakland Director Mrs Sallie Attwell said: "We are delighted to offer our premises to the Chamber as a venue for their Business Breakfast Programme and to have the opportunity of showing how Oakland helps support local business through our consolidated supply chain solution services."

Sallie's husband and Oakland's Managing Director Mr Dean Attwell said: "Oakland is a family firm which has grown and matured, understanding as we do the difficulties of small business. We help bridge the supply-chain gap for many small food manufactures from the UK and abroad as we store and then pack their mixed products on to one pallet ready for delivery to shops or regional distribution centres. What it means is it becomes financially viable for small producers and large supermarket chains, to trade with each other, so helping sustain local suppliers and their communities."

Anyone wishing to take up this rare and exciting opportunity to see behind the scenes of Oakland's operation and to get the low-down on the do's and don't of employing European workers, should contact the Chamber of Commerce for Hereford & Worcester on 0845 6411641.
